

Logwin Group: Rebranding of companies

Grevenmacher (Luxemburg) – The companies of the Logwin Group in France, Italy, and Spain as well as in eight Eastern European countries will change their names to Logwin on September 1, 2008. In total, 19 companies in 10 countries will be given a new name. In Poland this means the renaming of Albatros, Birkart, Birkart SGS, Overbruck and Welz to Logwin.

Even on July 1, 2008, 75 companies of the Logwin Group in 25 countries including Germany, Austria, and Switzerland as well as the entire Air + Ocean organization received their new names.

For the first time in the history of the logistics group all companies will bear a common name – Logwin – as part of their company names. In April, the former Thiel Logistik AG was renamed to Logwin AG upon resolution of the Annual General Meeting. As of September 1, 2008, Logwin is present almost everywhere in the world with the new brand.

“We are pleased that Logwin will now become visible for our employees and our customers alike. The common brand shows that we evolved from a relatively loosely connected group of companies to an integrated logistics group,” explains Berndt-Michael Winter, CEO of Logwin AG. “With Logwin we create maximum transparency – customers can now easily recognize size and services range of our Group.”

Alongside the rebranding of the companies the market presence will also be changed to Logwin. The common website www.logwin-logistics.com provides customers and everybody, who is interested with all important information about the full services range of the group.
